We Cast Our Vote For A Liberal Republican Congressman

Informal conferences are being held among Republican sectional leaders on the qualifications of those who aspire to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman J. William Ditter of Montgomery County. It is to these sectional leaders and party supervisors that the rank and file of committee people will look next Thursday when they meet in Norristown to nominate a candidate. Also, whoever is elected at the special election the Governor has called for January 18, has a good chance of being re-elected next Fall and continuing in office for some time afterward. Congressmen, on the argument that their influence grows the longer they remain in office, have a way of repeating indefinitely.

So, this may turn out to be a very important election for the citizens of Montgomery County. Not important, perhaps, from the viewpoint of choosing between a Sam Jones or a Bill Smith but important as to the type of representative we send to Washington to speak for us during the most important period of the Nation's history. Let us ask our sectional leaders, whose voices are heard by county leaders, to keep this in mind.

We don't know what chance we have of prevailing against the powerful financial and political forces thrashing about, but we are casting our editorial vote now for the selection of a liberal Republican.

What we are proposing is not an editorial whim, but something anyone can find out for himself by talking to 100 or more average-American, man-in-the-street people who live in the County. What we are proposing anyone can sense in the temper of letters from our soldiers overseas. It can be felt in the shifting winds of wartime; in the restless seeking of all of us for a better world; in the desperate need of the kind of a National government that will make all this suffering and death impossible for another generation.

Through our Congressman, Montgomery County can have a share in shaping this new world. That is, if he is the type of a Congressman who believes profoundly that a better world is in the making and that no old world substitutes will do.

What do we mean by liberalism? Nothing very startling. It is more an attitude of mind—an attitude that doesn't want to go back to outmoded remedies; an attitude of mind that believes in growth. To us it is the Congressional type of mind that refuses to confuse and confound the people it represents with decadent platitudes. It is a Congressional mind that votes on issues and does not shape issues to party politics, especially when those issues concern the blood of our youth and the bread of our existence.

What do we mean by liberal Republican representation? Let us look to our government at home. For nearly a decade now the County has prospered under a liberal Republican administration. It has been trying new ideas, going places and doing things. It has been extending its services and, at the same time, balancing its budget. This liberalism at home and there is no reason under God's good heaven why Montgomery County's representation in Washington shouldn't reflect this same political philosophy.

The task of achieving this type of representation may mean that our leadership will have to stand up on its hind legs and say "no" to some rather powerful people. It may mean that they will place themselves in jeopardy to all kinds of wire pulling and political as well as financial threats.

For our leadership to exercise this courage means that we will be able to send to Washington a man determined to honestly represent all the people and a man who is determined not to be the mouthpiece for any special interests or outside political schemers.

Such a straight-thinking man will look each issue clearly in the eye and ask himself:

"Are all the facts in? Will this be a lasting good for the greatest number of people?"

It is a simple formula, but its application is cluttered with diversions and temptations.

Only a Congressman of great convictions and courage will make it work.

Let's send this kind of a man to Washington.

SAVE MANPOWER WRAP CHRISTMAS PARCELS CAREFULLY

Manpower, handling, time and wrapping materials can be saved by carefully wrapping Christmas packages, suburban postmasters advised this week.

They made three suggestions: 1. Placing sender's return card (name and address) in the upper left corner of the parcel, preceded by the word "From". 2. Legible and correct addressing, complete name and address of the addressee to be shown on each parcel, preferably in the lower right portion. (Parcels addressed to Army personnel when properly wrapping Christmas packages, suburban postmasters should also show the rank, Army serial number, branch of service or organization.) 3. Christmas packages should be carefully packed in strong durable containers or wrapped most securely in several thicknesses of strong paper, and tied with heavy twine or cord. Articles easily broken should be securely packed in containers of sufficient strength, with ample cushioning material used to prevent damage by shock and pres-

Fire Destroys School Building

Dormitory and Class- rooms Gutted at Haverford School

Crosman House, dormitory and class room building at the Haverford School, Lancaster Ave., Haverford, was partially destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. The fire started in a teachers' smoking room on the third floor and was discovered by Barton Senek, biology teacher, who was conducting a class in the biology laboratory next door. He, with Don Murray and Milton Peck, both 16, attempted to extinguish the blaze, while school authorities called the fire companies.

Ardmore, Narberth, Bryn Mawr and Penn Wynne companies fought the fire for more than three hours and confined the damage principally to the classroom wing of the stone and stucco building. Several rooms in the other part of the building were damaged by smoke and water, and the 40 boys who are quartered there were billeted temporarily at the homes of day students or in classrooms.

Six Lower Merion Gridders Honored

Basile, Becton and Ellmaker Unani- mous Choices

Just as Lower Merion High School's football team outclassed all but one of its opponents, so does it overshadow the All-Suburban Big Six selections named by the coaches.

Six members of the unbeaten Maroon were placed on the first team of the mythical eleven and two others made the second team. Upper Darby won three positions and Radnor and Abington one each.

Haverford High managed to place two players on the second team, namely Cal DiValerio, half-back, and Al Davis, center.

MISS JANE E. DAVIS

Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Davis, 101 Avon Rd., Narberth, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Elizabeth Davis, to Mr. Robert Odell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Odell, Sioux City, Iowa.

Miss Davis, a graduate of Lower Merion High School, is now a senior at the University of Pennsylvania, where her fiancé is the retiring captain of the 1943 football team. Her father is the famous "Lardie" Davis, one of Penn's all-time basketball greats, and her brother, Larry, was a member of the Penn varsity basketball team for the last two years. He is now in the Navy, stationed at Cornell. Had he remained at Penn this year, he would have captained the team, as did his father before him.

Mr. Odell is a flight preparatory student in the Navy V-5 program at the University.

The engagement of Miss Davis and Mr. Odell is the culmination of a campus romance of two years. It was announced at a shower given at the Davis home Friday evening in honor of Miss Nancy Pollock, daughter of Sportsman and Mrs. Ed Pollock, of Narberth. Miss Pollock's engagement to Ensign Jackie Welsh, former U. of P. football player, has recently been announced.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS BEGUN

Royer Explains Use of Funds in Local Work

The annual Christmas Seal Sale, sponsored by the Community Health and Civic Association, Ardmore, with Frank C. Royer, 104 School House Lane, Ardmore, as chairman, opened last week in Lower Merion and Narberth.

Most of the money collected in this district will remain here for local use, according to Royer. Some of it goes for tuberculosis testing and X-ray of teachers and children in the schools. It is also used for case finding through home visits, education concerning tuberculosis, bedside care of tuberculosis cases, and publicity which includes posters, literature and films shown in schools, clubs and other organizations.

In view of the fact that men in the younger age groups are so vital in the life of the state and nation, Royer declared yesterday, it is disturbing that the increase in tuberculosis in Pennsylvania during the past 18 months was concentrated in the white male population from 20 to 45 years of age.

"This situation is reflected further by the rejection of more than 14,000 young men in Pennsylvania because of tuberculosis since selective service examinations were started," he continued. "Many of these 14,000 who have been re-

The discussion panel on "Realtors War Time Problems" will be conducted by F. E. Caballero.

New Ruling on Air Raid Practice

Effective November 15, the State Council of Defense at Harrisburg ruled that persons on their own private premises would not be considered pedestrians during an air raid.

"Wardens and auxiliary police," a Defense Council bulletin states, "will advise persons outside of shelter, while on private premises, to take shelter but will in no case attempt to compel them to do so, nor shall they in case of refusal to take shelter under such circumstances, be prosecuted for violation of the Air Raid Precautions Act."

Narberth Club Held Men's Night

Husbands Were Guests at Special Evening Program

Responsibility for juvenile delinquency was laid at the door of parents in a talk by Milton Bacon, radio humorist, who spoke Tuesday at the Women's Community Club of Narberth. Bacon, who wove philosophy which reminded his listeners of the late Will Rogers into his lecture on "Watch Yourself Go By," closed with these words:

"Give me the patience to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can change, but the wisdom to know the difference."

Bacon was the featured speaker at the club's annual Men's Night, when the club members had their husbands as guests. Preceding his talk, a period of community singing opened the program, with Mrs. Ralph Giles leading the singing and Mrs. L. G. Crater at the piano. Mrs. Ellisworth Clark introduced the speaker and Mrs. J. H. Middleton, Jr., president of the club, presided.

The club will present a musical program at an open meeting at the Narberth Presbyterian Church on December 13 at 8 P. M. to make Christmas wreaths.

The Literature and International Relations groups have combined their meetings for the year. At the next meeting, on December 7, Mrs. F. M. Robb will review "Paris Underground," and Mrs. Kenneth Bates will speak on Indian, Hassimian Nalik, an Indian student at Bryn Mawr College, will also give a short talk.

WOMEN STUDY POSTWAR PLANS

Club Delegates Take Community Work- shop Course

What is my home town like and how can it best fit itself and its people to carry on after the war? That is the question to be answered by clubwomen attending the Community Workshop course sponsored by the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs and given by the Philadelphia State College at Gimbel's Club Room, Philadelphia.

The delegates, chosen for their leadership abilities by their clubs, represent 17 Montgomery County clubs and one from Chester County. Local women are: Mrs. Samuel H. P. Head, 97 Windsor Ave., Narberth, representative of the Women's Community Club of Narberth; Mrs. William R. Budd, 2906 Rising Sun Rd., Ardmore, choice of the Women's Club of Ardmore; and Mrs. George M. Sitterley, 96 East Levering Mill Rd., Cynwyd, who was the delegate from the Woman's Club of Bala Cynwyd last year and will represent her club until a new delegate is chosen this year.

Meetings, which began last Monday, will be held December 1 and twice a month January through March from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M.

The purpose of the course is to give scientific social service to each community. Each delegate is asked to organize a community council in her town, composed of representatives, men and women, from every organization in the town. This council then acts for the community, thus saving overlapping of time, effort and money.

The same Workshop course was successfully carried out by the Federation last year. Recreation

MERCHANTVILLE FIRST TEST FOR L. M. BASKETBALL TEAM

Lower Merion High School's basketball team, winner of the State championship three years running, will launch its 1943-44 campaign in a game with Merchantville (N. J.) High on December 10 at Downs Gym.

Coach Bill Anderson has arranged a 16-game schedule to date but may increase it by one or more games before the season gets underway. There are two open dates as a result of Cheltenham giving up the sport, and games are pending for two other dates. Eleven contests are scheduled at home.

Some 60 candidates reported for the first practice, but the squad has gradually been reduced to 30. During the past week workouts were held with Ford Local of the American Industrial League and St. Joseph's College.

Coach Anderson has two regulars and three other lettermen at the year level. Jim Ford, Jackson Laren, Adelaide Bruner, Knapp and Bill Lillis.

20.7 PERCENT OF QUOTA RAISED IN UNITED WELFARE CAMPAIGN

Autocar Gives $50,000; Overbrook Leads Main Line Communities; Penn Valley Reports Four Percent of Quota

Early returns for the United War Chest campaign showed 20.7 per cent of the quota of Main Line Division No. 1 had been raised, according to an announcement at the second "Report Luncheon" at the Bellevue-Stratford on Wednesday.

This Division, which includes Ardmore, Wynnewood, Overbrook, Merion, Narberth and Penn Valley, has a quota of $124,500 in the drive which opened last Sunday and will continue until December 15.

Highlighting contributions from the area was a gift of $50,000 from the Autocar Company, Ardmore, which doubles the sum given by that concern in the 1943 drive.

The Overbrook district led the six communities in the Division, reporting 54.9 per cent of its $24,000 quota raised. Wynnewood reported 24.4 per cent on a quota of $18,500. Merion listed 14.2 per cent of its $17,406 quota.

A re-distribution of the Ardmore quota was made in view of the Autocar contribution with that company and its employees being charged with a $30,000 quota and reporting 151.2 per cent. Other businesses in the community were assigned a quota of $5,350 of which 9.2 per cent has been raised. The North Ardmore section has a quota of $10,400 with 10 per cent reported. The area East of Cricket Avenue and south of the railroad has a quota of $3,000 and reported 5.3 per cent raised. The Ardmore area west of Cricket Avenue and south of the railroad has a quota of $1,000 with no report as yet.

Penn Valley, which has a quota of $8,820, reported four per cent of its quota raised. No reports were available from Narberth which has a quota of $5,024.

An invitation to Narberth workers to attend a "Report Luncheon" at the Bellevue-Stratford Monday at 12.30 was extended by Mrs. Lewis G. Crater, Narberth Director.

A meeting of Ardmore Business solicitation committee has been called by W. E. L. Irwin, associate director in charge of business, for this Friday afternoon.

District directors urged their solicitors to bear down on the job of covering their territory in view of the shortness of the campaign. The Ardmore organization: Henry

Two Narberth Men Reported Killed

Parents Were Notified of Deaths This Week

Two of Narberth's men in the service were reported killed in action this week.

Mrs. Margaret Bonner, 328 Woodbine Ave., received word that her son, Staff Sergeant Frank A. Bonner, Jr., 24, died in action in the Asiatic area. He had previously been reported missing in action.

James Boydell Mackenzie, Jr., 19, Gunner's Mate, Third Class, died of wounds following action in performance of his duty, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Mackenzie, 24 Narbrook Park, Narberth. Mackenzie enlisted when he was 17, immediately after graduating from Lower Merion High School.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Nancy and Jean Pat. His father is a prominent artist and an executive of an advertising firm in Philadelphia.

The Rev. Robert E. Keighton announced that plans are near completion for the Rotary Family Night which will be held December 14 at the Overbrook Golf Club.

War Bond Rallies On Pearl Harbor Day

BACK MCCONNELL FOR CONGRESS

L. M. Commissioner Draws Strong Support From Own Committee People

To date Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., Lower Merion Commissioner from Penn Wynne, is the most talked about man to fill the Montgomery County post left vacant by the death of Congressman J. William Ditter.

Also, besides McConnell, the names of at least 12 other possible candidates are being discussed in the Court House at Norristown and other political meeting places. As far as the Main Line is concerned, it looks as though McConnell could have the backing of practically all the Lower Merion Township and Borough of Narberth committee people, if he is interested. But McConnell is non-committal about the subject. He won't say "yes" and he won't say "no."

The conclusion that McConnell is out in front is drawn from an informal survey of the Main Line committeemen and women. That in itself is not to be discounted, because it means he will go into the meeting of the Montgomery County Republican Committee next Thursday at Norristown with a bloc of approximately 40 votes. That is 40 votes out of a total of a possible 44 committee votes in Lower Merion and Narberth, which is nothing for any rival.

Basile, who averaged 10.6 yards per try, Becton and Ellmaker were unanimous choices. Whiting just missed being a unanimous choice by one vote.

Two coaches placed DiValerio, Haverford's veteran fullback, on their first teams, but he was not consistent enough to poll enough votes to win a first team berth from either Gus Dielens or Jack Birmingham, of Upper Darby.

The selections were determined on the basis of five points for a first team vote, and three points for second team mention.

To the Editor:

Sir:

In answer to very many inquiries, it is respectfully stated that no plans have been made to send the Narberth men and women in the war service. An earnest effort was made to continue the practice which brought so much pleasure last year to the recipients, and so much prestige to the community, but it was all in vain, as local officials were convinced it should not be attempted and none of them appeared at the meeting which was called. The degree of citizen interest was also demonstrated to be almost nil.

If an explanation for this extraordinary lethargy is sought, possibly it lies in the belief that the borough now seems to be in the full throes of its menopause.

MRS. HOLM DIES AT CYNWYD HOME

Pastor's Wife Was Active in Methodist Affairs

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop Holm at the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church at 2 P. M. Friday. Mrs. Holm, wife of the Rev. Gladstone Holm, retired Methodist minister, died Tuesday at her home, 112 Bentley Ave., Bala-Cynwyd. She was 75.

Mrs. Holm was active in church work throughout her life, working closely with her husband during their 51 years of married life. Dr. Holm was formerly pastor of the Church of the Advocate, Germantown; Rehoboth Church, Frankford; Madison Avenue Church, Chester and several others. He was president of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Philadelphia Methodist Conference before his retirement last year. At present he is acting as supply pastor each Sunday at the Gladwyn Methodist Church.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Holm is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice H. Eby, and a granddaughter, Charlotte Eby. Interment will be in Ivy Hill Cemetery, Mt. Airy.

The home is at once the surest safeguard of pure personal life and the only sound foundation on which social order and national life can be rightly built and preserved intact.

candidate to brush off lightly. In the County there is a total of 382 votes, which means that McConnell, with what he can pick up from the other sections, has a head start.

The others we have heard mentioned in the County are Judge Harold G. Knight, District Attorney Frederick B. Smille, Harold Pike, Secretary of Chesterham Township, who was chairman of the 1943 Republican Primary Committee; Lloyd H. Wood, chairman of the Montgomery County Republican Committee; Foster C. Hillegass, County Commissioner; Robert Titus, president of the Montgomery County Manufacturers Association; Edwin C. Winner, former legislator and now County Treasurer; Dr. Frank P. K. Barker, County Controller; Lambert Cadwalader, State Representative; Everett E. Burlingame, president of the Lower Merion School Board; S. Edgar Downs, former superintendent of Lower Merion schools; Caroline G. Huber, president of the Lower Merion Republican Women.

Of these mentioned possibilities Titus, Barker, Huber, Cadwalader, Downs and Burlingame come from the Main Line. But, it strikes us that, whereas there is an active desire among committee people to back McConnell for the post, any one of the previously mentioned prospects would almost have to have McConnell's backing if he were interested in going to Washington.

McConnell is in his forties and a member of the brokerage firm of Thayer Baker and Co. in Philadelphia. At present he is chairman of the Lower Merion Republican Committee; commissioner representing the heavily populated South Ardmore voting district of the township and, in addition, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Norristown State Hospital.

turned to their home communities with an infectious and communicable disease did not previously know they had tuberculosis.

"The disease is being uncovered in a sector of the population where it had not been hunted on a large scale before. The main weapon in this search is the x-ray and this detector is largely relied on in the effort to control tuberculosis.

"The Tuberculosis Societies and the U. S. Public Health Service have extended x-ray service to war industries. Every young person going to work for the first time should have his or her lungs x-rayed for self-protection and the safety of the home and the community.

"The x-ray is of the greatest value when it is part of a complete physical examination. Of great importance also are daily living habits, including good and adequate food and sufficient rest."

A tolerant person is one who does not interfere with other people, even if he thinks they are wrong. If he thinks they are wrong, he may try to persuade them to think differently, but he will not try to force them.

centers for teen-agers, playground supervision, centers for service men, the procuring of two bus routes for a new section, a club for service men's wives, and other projects were among the achievements.

Mrs. Read, Narberth representative, believes that the first community service to be performed by the council she hopes to organize in Narberth is the establishment of a recreation center for boys and girls from 16 to 24. While such a center is needed especially now for girls while the boys are away at war, says Mrs. Read, it should develop into a permanent center, with a recreation center built for them after the war.

Mrs. Read, lead of Narberth Girl Scout troop 368, a group of 32 girls from 12 to 14 years, was supervisor of the Friday night dances given for teen-agers by the Germantown Y. W. C. A. from 1934 until she moved back to Narberth, her home town, in 1940. As supervisor, she called on such groups as High School committees, women's clubs, mothers of the H-Y, and others for assistance in making the dances a success. For a Narberth recreation center she hopes to have help from the organizations in the Borough.

Mrs. Budd was on the Ardmore Workshop committee established last year by Mrs. William F. Leis-man, and hopes to carry on the service begun by that committee.

A member of the Ardmore Civic Club, the Eastern Star, St. Margaret's Guild, Sigma Gamma Sorority and the P. T. A., she has assisted on the playground committee of the Ardmore Civic Club, organizing activities and planning supervision, and was supervisor of the district for the United War Chest last year.

CIVILIANS TO GET CANNED FOODS

Increased supplies of canned pineapple, canned grapefruit juice, asparagus, corn, pumpkin, spinach, tomatoes, beans, and figs will reach retail markets within a few weeks, the War Food Administration said recently. They are supplies owned and held by canners, but set aside for government purchase, which have been released to civilians.

BROWN POINTS FOR WASTE FATS

For every pound of fat a housewife turns in to her meat dealer or other fat salvager, she will receive two brown points, beginning December 13. "But most important," Herbert M. Faust, director of WPB's salvage division said, "within a month the fat will be transformed into war materials and on the way to the fighting fronts." He reminded housewives to save the grease from turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens, for the manufacture of war products.

WOOL RESTRICTIONS LIFTED

With only two exceptions WPB has lifted all restrictions on use of raw wool. Finer grades of alpaca may not be used except for military purposes, and only carpet wool and mohair may be used for floor coverings.

FUEL OIL RATINGS SAME

Rations of fuel oil throughout the 33-state rationed area remain unchanged at 10 gallons per unit for Period 2, which began November 30. Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, said recently. Period 3 coupons, which also went into effect November 30 in the Midwestern and Southern states under fuel oil rationing, have the same unit value—10 gallons. This applies to Class 4 coupons, used mostly by small householders. Class 5 coupons, used by larger consumers, are good for 50 gallons each. Class 1 and 2 "change making" coupons for fuel oil, part of last year's ration, are invalid for all purposes beginning December 1.

SERVICE BUTTONS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Plastic gold-coated lapel buttons for wear on civilian clothing, to signify honorable military service on and after the declaration of a period of national emergency, September 9, 1939, are being distributed to issuing agencies through the country, the War Department has reported. The insignia on the button is an eagle within a circle, the wings extending beyond the circle's edge. Persons whose Army service has been terminated under honorable conditions will be permitted to wear the insignia.

CAN HOLD SHOES 30 DAYS

Without ration payment dealers may not hold shoes bought on a will-call or lay-away plan, or by special order, longer than 30 days after they become available for delivery, OPA has announced.

REQUESTS FOR PENICILLIN

The War Department never has controlled penicillin nor received the entire output, Surgeon General Norman T. Kirk of the Army Medical Department explained recently. A civilian request for penicillin, the new drug which prevents growth of infection bacteria, should be made through the civilian's doctor. The doctor should communicate by telegram, telephone, or personal letter with Dr. Chester S. Keefer, Evans Memorial Hospital, Boston, giving complete details of the case.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENTS DROP

Enrollments in colleges and other institutions of higher education this year are more than one-quarter below the 1940 peak, according to a preliminary survey by the U. S. Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency. This year's total of about 1,110,500 persons is eight per cent below last year's figures. Of those enrolled this year almost one-quarter have been assigned by the armed forces for specialized training.

INCREASE COAL PRICES

Anthracite coal ceiling prices have been raised by OPA an average of 62 cents a net ton at the mine. Increases range from 35 to 70 cents a ton depending on the size of the coal. On June 1, 1944, the new ceilings at the mine will be reduced by an average of 28 cents a ton, leaving net increases of about 34 cents a ton. The exact amount of these increases can be passed on to the consumer. Purpose of the approximately six months of higher ceilings is to compensate mine owners for the retroactive feature of recent wage increases.

SAVE FIBRE BOARD CARTONS

Shoppers can help reduce the load on the under-manned pulp and paper supply business by using and re-using fibre board cartons for taking food home from the market, says the War Food Administration. This is but one of the trifles which amount to imposing totals when saving ways are adopted by millions of families.

TO REGISTER NATION'S NURSES

Every graduate nurse through the nation is asked by the War Manpower Commission to register at a local hospital or health center during National Nurses Mobilization Week, beginning February 7. The appeal is being made to graduate nurses of all ages, no matter where they live or how long they have been away from active practice. As war fronts expand, more and more nurses will be demanded by the armed forces, and they must be replaced by nurses now inactive.

SAVE JARS FOR 1944 CANNING

Home canners are urged to save all glass jars and tops suitable for re-use. They will be needed to round out new supplies next Summer, the Department of Agriculture says. Many commercial jars—those containing coffee, pickles, peanut butter and mayonnaise—are now standardized as to size and type of opening, so that a jar and its metal screw cap may be used for home canning by buying only a metal sealing disk with flowed-on rubber compound.

Merion Flier Tells Of Trip To Moscow With Cordell Hull

A 23-year-old Merion boy helped to make history a few weeks ago.

He is Lieutenant Malcolm J. Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Rowe, of 514 Lafayette Rd., Merion Park, who served as a copilot on Secretary of State Cordell Hull's flight to Moscow.

In a long letter received by his parents last week, Lieutenant Rowe described the 26,000-mile trip and his 17-day visit in the Russian capital.

"Mr. Hull enjoyed his first hop and each leg of the trip after that," he wrote. "He was an ideal passenger—patient, never complaining, calm."

"He rested often, using one of three comfortable berths in the cabin and much of his time he passed at cards or in conversation with his fellow travelers, Green C. Hackworth, James C. Dunn, his two personal physicians, Dr. M. H. Perry, Lieutenant Commander J. R. Meyer, and others."

"When we arrived in Moscow," Rowe said, "Major Klotz (Alexis Klotz, Wendell Wilkie's co-pilot around the world) taxied to the south side of the field where the guard of honor was lined in review. The day was crisp, sky clear, grass seemed almost green."

"We leaped out of the cockpit to watch V. M. Molotov, British Ambassador, Foreign Affairs, Colonel General P. I. Gorkov, chairman of the executive committee of the Moscow City Soviet, Major General K. R. Simlov, commander of the City of Moscow, and a host of others march to the plane to receive the Secretary of State."

"Under the wing a long line of booted troops stood at attention. A band struck up 'The Star Spangled Banner' and next a Russian anthem."

"An officer gave a resounding speech of welcome, and amidst the flash of camera bulbs and the grind of newswire cameras, the secretarial party joined the Russian party to review the troops."

"About five minutes later a Liberator disembarked. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, from England. We stood at attention for the British national anthem while the reception was repeated and got a glimpse of Eden reviewing the troops."

ENTER TO LEARN—GO FORTH TO SERVE

Under the supervision of Mr. Whistler and Mr. Harkins some 40 boys are limbering up their muscles in order to successfully "pin" their opponents during the coming wrestling season. Here is a sport that gives boys of any size and weight an equal chance to make their varsity letter. Fellows of last year's team who will probably be on the present team are L. Kesch, Dan Walker, J. Arronsen, Phil Moroney, Paul Haenn and E. Augustine. First meet is on December 13 with Episcopal at home.

SALUTE OF THE WEEK—goes to Jane Wallace of Narberth who so patiently helps the students to select books he will enjoy, and records the books the students wish to take out of the high school library. Jane assists Miss Dittmar, librarian, in her various tasks necessary to keep complete records on some 8,000 books on library shelves for students' use. Other than the books pertaining to biography, history, fiction, etc., forty subscriptions to various magazines must be kept on file and up to date.

Due to the lack of enthusiasm on behalf of the Victory Corps last year, the corps has been disbanded. However, the students show a real interest in this nationwide organization. The corps was originated under the direction of Vice-Principal Vincent V. Pearce on December 15, 1942. Why can't Lower Merion make a go of this organization? This year considerable attention has been placed on the fact that the students are not doing their part to help win the war as in comparison with other schools. First it was announced that we light as day; then, in the pause of darkness until the next burst, searchlights would catch the rhythm and send fingers of light against Lenin's tomb, the Church of St. Basil and the walls of the Kremlin.

Rowe, a graduate of Harvard University in June, 1942, ran into a classmate, Edward Ames, at the American Embassy. He remarked to him on the extreme cleanliness of Moscow.

"Why shouldn't it be?" said Ames. "The Russians have nothing to throw away."

Rowe's letter continues: "I began to understand how Russia is suffering to win the war. I learned that while we stayed in Moscow, the Russian women were being conscripted to the forests around Moscow to chop wood."

"I learned that Russians are living on black bread and cabbage soup. Several working in the embassy asked me for food and I felt sorry that our luxury was a manifestation of the old Russian custom—nothing is too good for the guest."

"With world problems settled," Rowe wrote, "weather became the final problem. We had snow and rain, cold and low ceilings. Eventually we had a weather conference one morning before dawn and decided to go."

Church Federation Work Increased By New War Problems

The Main Line Federation of Churches, which receives a large share of its income from funds raised in the United War Chest campaign, is engaged in a program of social service work in the community which helps overcome the disruptive influences threatening family life.

While the old problems of juvenile delinquency, triangles, alcoholism and inadequate incomes for the physically and mentally handicapped still confront the Federation, it is also faced with new problems induced by the war. Many people have been helped with budgets, nutritional problems, meal planning and food buying.

Trained social workers employed by the Federation investigate cases and the advisory service of psychologists and psychiatrists is also available. The Federation, through long experience, is able to make suggestions and provide assistance necessary to alleviate or overcome problems affecting the families and individuals who come to it for assistance.

Last year, $29,000, or two-thirds of its income, was received by the Federation from funds raised by the United War Chest and the Main Line Welfare Federation.

KEEPING APPOINTMENTS WITH CONVOYS

In a day's combat, an infantry division fires about 300 tons of ammunition . . . 100 37 mm. anti-aircraft guns, 127½ tons . . . and the thousands of army vehicles "passing the ammunition" and other supplies each burn up an average of 10 gallons of gasoline . . .

All of these materials—the guns, the "gas", the ammunition, the vehicles—plus 700,000 other different military items—must come by sea.

A gigantic supply task without parallel in the history of the nation, this job calls for the finest coordination of American railroads with ships.

The railroads must bring everything to ship sidings exactly as needed—and when needed. Any slip, any delay, may hold up a convoy sailing.

So keeping appointments with convoys is one of the most important jobs railroads have these days.

If pushing a "convoy train" through ahead of your passenger train caused you to be a little late for an early-morning business appointment, the Pennsylvania Railroad feels sure you will gladly overlook it. The demands of war must have not only railroad equipment—but the right-of-way!

THIEVES LOOT NEW OFFICE OF RATION BOARD

The new headquarters of the Norristown Ration Board were broken into and completely ransacked sometime during the night, but the intruders failed to obtain any rationing stamps.

The only loot taken was 80 cents of a petty cash fund kept in the desk of Mrs. Ethel L. Erskine, Chief Clerk.

It was the second time within 10 weeks that the office of the board was entered and the intruders failed in an attempt to steal stamps. This is due to the new system in operation whereby all rationing stamps are removed from the building at the close of the day's business.

Two Previous Robberies

The effective safety measure was inaugurated after last week's robbery, principally gasoline stamps, were stolen in two previous robberies.

Entrance into the new headquarters, the former Norristown School District Home Economics Building on Oak St., between DeKalb and Swede, was effected through a fire escape door.

Janitor Discovers Robbery

Every desk and filing cabinet was broken into but the only thing of value taken was the 80 cents from Mrs. Erskine's desk.

The robbery was discovered this morning by Elias Eisenberger, the janitor. He reported the theft to Mrs. Erskine and A. K. High, Chairman of the Norristown Board.

Mr. High immediately notified P. F. Aschenfelder, head of the district OPA Office in Philadelphia, and Raymond B. Rippman, County Coordinator.

OPA officials are conducting an investigation.

Reductions in Gas Rations Leaves West Conshohocken Without Vehicle

West Conshohocken Town Council last night pondered over the gasoline drought which threatens the borough's "one-truck fleet."

It was reported to the solons that at the present time only 20 gallons of gasoline remain of the 140-gallon allotment granted by Board Four, with headquarters at Bryn Mawr, on which the board stipulated the truck must operate three months.

The remaining 20-gallons are being held in reserve in event of an acute emergency which would result in case of a snow storm which would necessitate the truck being called into service.

Thus, the truck may not be operated now for any purpose until the board grants additional gasoline. The borough figuratively is at a "standstill."

For the first three months of this year, 240 gallons were allotted for the borough truck; 240 for the second quarter; 105 originally allotted for the third quarter, and a supplemental amount of 70 gallons granted on appeal; and 140 gallons for the final three months, one of which still remains.

Discuss Post-War Work

Plans for post-war era were discussed. It was pointed out that consideration should be given construction work at this time in order that returning men may be placed in valuable work.

whether a sailor or a mariner at sea can make an oral will but whether the will can be proven by only one witness and whether it was made under such circumstances as to show a testamentary intent.

Register of Wills Crawford declares in his opinion:

"The first claim made that there was a nuncupative (oral) will, appears to be at the audit of the account when the daughter of the decedent is produced and requests an award to be made to her for the balance shown."

"If the decedent, in talking to the witness, Carter, intended to make a will, would he not have so impressed the witness, Carter, such being his intentions, that upon the return of the trip in question, or certain after the decedent was killed, impressed Knight that the decedent had made a will in his favor."

"As the decedent was not lost during that voyage, should it not be said that the condition was not met, and that therefore, the will fails? Under all the circumstances, the Register is unable to conclude that the words spoken by the decedent were intended by him to be unconditionally his last Will and Testament. In order to prove a will, more should be produced than mere casual words spoken in general conversation."

Although as stated, no particular form may be required and no particular words may be essential, certainly the words as spoken, and the testimony produced must be sufficient to cause the Register or Chancellor to conclude that the substance of the words spoken amounted to a testamentary request or a testamentary disposition of the property of the person uttering such words without conditions attached thereto.

"The Register, therefore, finds that the alleged nuncupative will has not been proven and its probate is refused."

Serial No. Coupons For Commercial Gas

Serially numbered gasoline ration coupons, which may be the pattern for all coupons in the future, will be issued to commercial users this month for use beginning Jan. 1, it was learned today.

Designed for "T" ration users only, the coupons will be similar in design to movie tickets and OPA rationing officials believe they will help break up black market operations in gasoline.

Register of Wills Crawford declares in his opinion:

"The first claim made that there was a nuncupative (oral) will, appears to be at the audit of the account when the daughter of the decedent is produced and requests an award to be made to her for the balance shown."

Supplee Sealtest Dairy Products

YOU—the people and WE—your Milk Company

CAN SEE THE SHORTAGE THROUGH

ALMOST every day you read in the papers some new story about the milk shortage.

There is a severe shortage. War dislocations of all kinds, combined with one of the worst droughts in history, have resulted in carrying the normal seasonal decline in milk production far below the anticipated level.

None could have foreseen or forestalled all of these factors. But—as your distributors of a great part of the fine milk available—we want you to understand the entire situation because we know your intelligent co-operation will be instantaneous.

1 Supplee at the present time, with the whole-hearted effort of farm producers, field men and all employees, is still able to obtain ENOUGH FRESH RICH MILK FOR THE ESSENTIAL NEEDS OF ALL OF OUR CUSTOMERS IN THIS AREA. We believe we shall be able to do so throughout the crisis.

2 Real needs do not include, perhaps, some of the luxury demands to which we are accustomed.

3 But since good milk is a nearly perfect basic food, everybody at your house needs some milk every day and can continue to have it. As you can judge, some people need more than others. Babies, growing children, heavy workers, invalids, people on special diets, expectant and nursing mothers—all must have plentiful milk. That is why a "share and share" rationing program, as used for other war-scarce foods, would be unfair applied to milk.

We believe that you yourself are a good judge of your family's real milk needs.

Your Supplee milk driver is a friend of yours, and between you, you can work out the whole matter so that each delivery of milk "goes round" to everybody in your neighborhood. If he finds it necessary to limit some customers some days, you will know that urgent needs of others are being filled. And if you will make the most of your supply, in the best nutritional sense, by using it while it is fresh and at its best and using it all, down to the last drop, we think you will be scarcely conscious of the limited supply.

Meanwhile, it is our determination to see that the quality and the safeguards with which we surround your Supplee Sealtest Milk are not deteriorated or relaxed because of the "emergency."
